HON. J. N. GARNER,

a candidate for Congress from this, the Fifteenth District, subject to the Democratic Nominating Convention.

You plant the rice, and the irrigation company will do the rest

A PURE food crusade should be waged vigorously all over the land, until congress passes strict laws prohibiting the sale of any adulterated article of food in this country. The people may survive high tariff and trusts, but impure food is slow poison.

CHICAGO, casting up her accounts of funds spent in entertaining Prince Henry of Prussia during his recent American tour, finds that the prince's visit cost the city just $22,500. As his royal highness spent only five hours in the Windy City, this makes the cost of entertaining royalty in Chicago come to about $4500 an hour. The thrifty soul of Prince Henry's good frau would doubtless be shocked should these figures be presented to her, but then she doesn't know our Windy City, to which such a sum is a mere trifle.

AMONG the most despicable creatures in the image of man are they that, being already possessed of many times more of wealth than they can expend, even in a long life of the greatest luxury, yet seek to glut themselves with more millions, by conniving with others of their kind to raise the cost of the food on which the masses subsist. If the wrath of God be withheld against such vampires until the day of judgment, it may be that man will not be so patient. In truth, the white heat to which the beef trust's oppression has wrought up the people bodes evil results.

Now that the oleomargarine bill is passed, the shoddy bill claims attention. The first will prevent the sale of an animal grease compound for butter, and the second, if it become a law, will prevent the sale of stuff manufactured out of old rags and waste scraps from woolen mills as genuine woolen goods. The stockmen were opposed to the oleomargarine bill, as that article is in reality a sort of by-product of the beef parkery, and they believed the law might lessen their profits to some extent. The shoddy bill, on the contrary, will benefit the sheep owners of the country, as it is claimed that the consumption of wool has declined fifty per cent., on account of the substitution of shoddy, which is palmed off on purchasers as all wool. Perhaps the tariff on the genuine article may have something to do with its decline in popularity, but be that as it may, the people want the shoddy fraud stopped, and it is to be hoped that the grosvener measure may be promptly adopted.

SOME Smart Aleck space writer in Washington makes a certain Texas congressman relate, as a joke on Texas, a story to the effect that, as the M. C. was showing the sights of Washington to a couple of his constituents who were on a visit to the city, he pointed out the towering monument to Washington, whereupon one of the Texans asked: "And where is Runkler Hill monument?" That M. C. will probably have to do some ingenious explaining when he gets back to his home district.

LATER news confirms the worst report of the Martinique disaster, proving it to be an unparalleled catastrophe, the most awful, tragic, and appalling calamity in ever chronicles in the world.

Who would increase their growing store.

By flinching purses from the poor, While the lean wolf howls at the door?

Who, that their power may never fail, Would empty half the dinner pail, And shadows make of men once hale?

The Beef Trust.

WHAT HANNA WILL DO.

Hanna says he will prove Rattlebone innocent. If he does it is safe to say that no one will be more surprised than Rattlebone.—Houston Post.

Headache

kills, not necessarily suddenly, but SURELY. It preys upon the intellectual powers more than we realize. It consumes the vitality faster than nature can replenish it, and we cannot tell just what moment a temporary or complete aberration of the mind will result. Headache and pain should be promptly removed—but properly. Many pain cures are more harmful than the pain. Beware. If you would be safe, take

Dr. Miles' Pain Pills.

"As a result of neuralgia I lost the sight of my right eye, and the pain I have suffered is incomprehensible, being obliged to take opiates almost continually. A friend gave me one of Dr. Miles' Pain Pills and it promptly relieved me. I then purchased a box and now my trouble is gone. They have also cured my daughter of nervous headache, and I heartily recommend them to others."—W. J. CORLEY, Bremond, Texas.
